Campos de Hojas 2011
technical data
type of wine	Red
vintage	2011 The winter was cold, dry and very long, which led to a late budding in the vineyards. A cool spring and dry, but not overly warm summer meant that the plants depended on the overnight dew to maintain freshness. September was suddenly very hot, which meant that the grapes achieved proper ripeness and excellent wines.
harvest	By hand and machine, late September to mid-October.
wine-making	Destalking, crushing, 8 days cold soak, followed by 8 days of fermentation in stainless steel tanks. Afterwards, the wine remained on its fine lees for 3 months.
ageing	No oak ageing.
blend	80% Tempranillo and 20% Garnacha
analysis	Alcohol: 13.50% Acidity: 3.90g/l Volatile acidity: 0.38g/l Residual sugars: 1.30g/l pH: 3.62
date of bottling	June 2012
total production	40,000 bottles of 75 cl.
tasting note	Intense cherry colour, with hints of violet typical of a young wine. The nose is dominated by the aromas of the Tempranillo variety, blackcurrant, licorise and Parma violets. On the palate, the wine is soft and easy to drink.
