Brunello di Montalcino 2012

March 2017

“Good medium red. Expressive, bright aromas of red berries, pomegranate and underbrush. Then bright and fruity, with well-integrated acidity giving shape to the wine and its saline, vibrant and very pure red berry and cherry flavors. Most impressive today on the fine-grained, taut finish, which displays sneaky length if not mindblowing complexity, but I expect that to change with another five or six years of cellaring.”
